Excerpt: .myself to be entirely alone in this solitude, I was not a little astonished at seeing before me, at the very bottom of this desolate place, an exceedingly old and decrepit person seated upon the ground. He had a long silver beard, and still retained a few scanty hairs, which were white as snow, upon his polished crown. His dress was threadbare, and his complexion, though pale, received a sort of lustre from the sparkling benevolence which irradiated bis whole countenance. He arose from his seat in the dust to welcome me, a brother wanderer, to his place of refuge; and, scarcely waiting till I had sat down by him, and explained as much of my situation as waa necessary to account for my being in that place at such an hour, he produced a wallet, from which he drew a bottle of water...
