Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from Irvingiana: A Memorial of Washington Irving Washington Irving was born April 3, 1783, in the city of New York. As there has been gome little discussion as to the particular spot of his birth, it may not be amiss, writing for an historical magazine, to produce the following decisive testimony on the subject. In a letter, the original of which is before us, to Mr. Henry Panton, dated Sunnyside, Feb.15, 1850, Mr. Irving states precisely the place of bis birth. The house in which I was born was No.131 William-street, about half-way between John and Fulton streets. Within a very few weeks after my birth the family moved into a bouse nearly opposite, which my father had recently purchased; it was No.12. and has recently been pulled down anil a large edifice built on its site. It had been occupied by a British commissary during the war; the broad iin- iir was on the street door, and the garden was full of choice fruit-trees, apricots, greengages, nectarine--, C.ll is the first home of which Mr. Irving was the youngest son of a merchant of the city, William Irving, a native of Scotland, of an ancient knightly stock, who bad married Sarah Sanders, an English lady, and been settled in bis new country some twenty years. A newspaper correspondent at-- years since narrated an anecdote of this early period, of a pleasing character, which, unlike many things of the kind, has we believe, the merit of truth i in its favor. The story, as related, is given from the lips of Mr. Irving at a breakfast-table in i Washington City. -Mr. Irving said that he remembered...
