And what? Well, never mind. Now I want to hear her story. And we both sat down again for the third time on the tulip-sofa. I told him the history just as I had told him the outline of my life the day in the Harley woods. Only, as then I felt I was speaking of another person, now I seemed to be talking of myself when I came to the part of walking up the guillotine steps. And so they cut her head off--poor little lady! said Antony, when I had finished, and he looked straight into my eyes. The pillow of art-needlework and frills had fallen to the floor--even it could not remain comfortably...
