Brand New Book ***** Print on Demand *****.We are wired for competition. Our education system and organizations are inherently structured in favor of competition. And yet organizations exhort us to collaborate. How do individuals navigate in an environment that places them in such a conflicting situation? The decision making criterion is more important than the decision. How do we make choices when confronted with an easy and difficult option, and the easy option seems to work better. Do we have it in us to create the organization of choice - an organization where everyone would love to work? Can such an organization be the instrument of societal change? What is the genesis of competition and how does it relate to our beliefs? Can fear of failure be turned on its head to drive superior outcomes? There are wheels within wheels within wheels and the corporate environment can be quite confounding at times. Experience may make us wiser but that could take away precious time. Gaining foresight into people and organization dynamics in the realm of easy choices and a fiercely competitive world can help us resolve the dilemmas we will face on our way up the corporate ladder.
