It took the lives of a minister's wife, two of their daughters, and their son. The surviving daughter and her twin brother were left with great bitterness, heartache, and sorrow. The father, a Baptist pastor, was so devastated that he left the ministry. Meanwhile, the young man who felt responsible for the accident had to fight through a swirling maelstrom of guilt, shame, and horror. The reader will be stirred to the core by the emotional impact of this story with all its intrigue, surprises, and its vivid insights into the human condition. The writing is raw, intense, compelling, and moving. It is easy to readily identify with the feelings, experiences, and thoughts of each of the characters. Editorial Reviews About the Author Ashley King has been writing stories ever since she first wrote a sentence. Her first book, written at age five, was about a family of ethnically diverse cows. She is the Art Director for the Lakeholm Viewer, a student newspaper at Mount Vernon Nazarene University, where Ashley is currently earning her bachelor's degree. A native of Kentucky, Ashley now lives on a miniature farm in southern Ohio.
